PERFORMING ARTS

NextSteps 2011/12 – Through to June 2 – The best of Canadian dance features a range of new works and the return of several favourites. In its sixth year, the series is without parallel in the city and provides Toronto's dance companies with the opportunity to reflect the diversity of their broad international backgrounds and influences. Performances take place at the Fleck Dance Theatre, located on the 3rd floor of Queen's Quay Terminal, 207 Queens Quay West; the Enwave Theatre, 231 Queens Quay West and the Studio Theatre, York Quay Centre, 235 Queens Quay West. Complete information about single tickets, packages and group rates are available through Harbourfront Centre's Box Office by phone at 416-973-4000, or by visiting harbourfrontcentre.com/nextsteps. Sign up for our NextSteps e-newsletter – sent directly to you! Membership is free. To register or for more information, visit harbourfrontcentre.com/nextsteps.

Jan. 20, 7 p.m. &
Jan. 21–22, 1 p.m.

Dance Ontario – DanceWeekend 2012 – Presented in association with Harbourfront Centre. Dance Ontario's stunning winter showcase features more than 26 superb companies and hundreds of dancers, live musicians from ballet, b-boy and bharatanatym, hip-hop, modern and Middle Eastern, fiery flamenco and folk, to unforgettable dances from the African Diaspora. Performances at the Fleck Dance Theatre. Tickets: $10 minimum donation. danceontario.ca.

Jan. 26–28, 8 p.m.

Janak Khendry Dance Company – KAAL (TIME) – This fascinating production centres around the history of "kaal" ("time" in Sanskrit) and how it came into existence 14.93 billion years ago with The Big Bang. Every life on this planet and in space is connected with time. We breathe with it, live with it, die with it and our time dies with us. Performances at the Fleck Dance Theatre. Tickets: $26-$38.50. jkdanceco.org.

Feb. 3–4, 8 p.m. &
Feb. 5, 3 p.m.

COBA Collective of Black Artists – Les Rythmes de la Forêt – A suite of dances and rhythms from the Sene-Gambia region. These dances and rhythms represent social and ritual events including rites of passage, initiations, harvest, and moments of pure joy and celebration. Bringing together works from co-artistic directors Charmaine Headley and BaKari E. Lindsay, alongside guest choreographers Lindsay Faye Johnson and Sister Robin Hibbert, the traditional dance forms of Guinea and Senegal will move you through an incredible and vibrant experience of folklore and storytelling. Performances at the Fleck Dance Theatre. Tickets: $16-$30. cobainc.com.

Feb. 9–12, 8 p.m. &
Feb. 11–12, 2 p.m.

Arabesque Dance Company & Orchestra – Jamra – Jamra is Arabic for "embers," the heat at the centre of a fire when the flames have disappeared. Raw abandon is the theme for Arabesque's newest production. Deriving the unique essences from the nomadic and gypsy peoples of Egypt, Turkey, North Africa and Lebanon, Arabesque swirls together colour, archetypal imagery and ancient sounds (accompanied by a live, 12-piece Arabian orchestra) to express vibrant life and the raw energy that creates it. Performances at the Fleck Dance Theatre. Tickets: $25-$45. arabesquedance.ca.

Feb. 23–25, 8 p.m.

dance Immersion – TRIBUTE: A Moving History of Canadian Blacks in Dance – This is dance Immersion's 17th edition of its annual showcase presentation. This year celebrates black dance artists who have contributed to the Canadian and global dance ecology. Through the medium of dance, film and spoken word, this presentation pays homage to individuals in a production highlighting the history, artistry and contributions of Len Gibson, Jeni Legon, Dindi Lidge, Zab Maboungou, Paul Pettiford, Kevin Pugh and Jean Sheen. There will be a dance works presentation by Compagnie Danse Nyata Nyata, and remounted pieces performed by Caribbean Dance Theatre, Learie McNicolls, Ronald Taylor Dance and Danny Grossman. All are woven together with film by Gregory Christmas and spoken word artist Amani. Performances at the Fleck Dance Theatre. Tickets: $17-$32. danceimmersion.ca.

VISUAL ARTS: THE POWER PLANT

The Power Plant is Canada’s leading public gallery devoted exclusively to the art of our time. This prominent, non-collecting exhibition facility is on par with the finest international institutions, featuring new work by today’s best contemporary artists. Exhibitions celebrate the diverse tendencies of visual arts practice as it evolves, including painting, sculpture, photography, film, video, installation and other media. Public programmes designed to complement the year-round exhibitions include gallery tours, lectures and artist/curator talks. The Power Plant Contemporary Art Gallery at Harbourfront Centre is located at 231 Queens Quay West.

Winter Exhibitions: Through to Mar. 4:

Stan Douglas – This exhibition of new photographic work by senior Vancouver artist Stan Douglas continues the artist’s practice of reexamining locations and histories. The exhibition includes works from two projects, most of which have not been exhibited. The first body of work, a series of dramatic black and white portraits, is a meticulous studio project. Malabar People is comprised of portraits of workers and patrons of the post-war Malabar Night Club in Vancouver. Accompanying them are four photographs from Midcentury Studio (shown at David Zwirner in March 2011) that reveal a context for the nightclub. The second body of work is documentary and includes a series of large scale colour images that index locations the subjects of the portraits may have frequented: decaying theatres and dusty, cluttered retail interiors preserved in the Vancouver area. Curated by Melanie O’Brian, Curator & Head of Programs

Coming After – Coming After brings together a number of artists born in 1970 or later who share a certain contemporary queer sensibility that is arguably in dialogue with the period of the late 1980s and early 1990s in North America that saw queer, art and other communities destroyed by AIDS and galvanized by AIDS activism. Featuring fourteen artists—largely unrepresented by commercial galleries—the exhibition will draw on work created in the last decade in a range of media and through diverse perspectives. This exhibition identifies a renewed focus on the historical and the political as artists negotiate their hope and despair about our present moment. The seriousness of this sensibility—which can take decidedly un-serious forms—is reflected in their evocation of spaces that are loaded with both historical resonance and future potential. Curated by Jon Davies, Assistant Curator

World Stage 2012 presents Everything Under the Moon – Shary Boyle and Christine Fellows (Canada) – Feb. 18–23 – World premiere – In association with The Power Plant Contemporary Art Gallery – Part of Fresh Ground new works, Harbourfront Centre’s national commissioning programme. See page 4 for more details.

VISUAL ARTS: YORK QUAY CENTRE

York Quay Visual Arts is made up of 10 exhibition spaces which are both traditional and unique. These venues are located within and outside York Quay Centre and range in size from an exhibition gallery which is 1,400 feet square to individual vitrines which are nine feet square. York Quay Centre exhibits the works of contemporary artists creating new works in fine art, craft, new media, design, architecture and photography. The exhibition schedule changes four times a year in all of the venues except the site-specific spaces. For more information, please contact 416-973-5379.
